Chapter 1

Wolfkit lay in his nest with his mother and brother when something made a loud thud against the nursery wall. Wolfkit pricked his ears before going and nudging his brother. "Amberkit, Amberkit waker up" Wolfkit whisperes looking at his brother as the small kit yawned and opened his eyes. "What is it Wolfkit, I'm trying to sleep" Amberkit hissed grumpily.

"I think there is a fight going on outside, I heard a large thump" Wolfkit replied excitedly, leaping up and down before his sharp claws dug into his brothers tail when he landed on it. "Owww, Wolfkit that hurt, I told you that you need to pull those claws in better" Amberkit meowed as he wrapped his tail around his paws. "And I told you that my claws are too long for me to fully retract them" Wolfkit replied.

It was true, Wolfkit had been born with claws in a similar style to those of a wolf due to them being to long for him to be able to retract them properly. "What are you guys talking about? " Another voice whisper asked. "We were talking about the thud I heard just outside the nursery" Wolfkit replied to Stripekit as the ginger and black she-at tried to get to the two Tom's without waking they're mother. Both Tom's had a bit of a thing for the young she-cat and would sometimes fight over who would get Stripekit when they were older.

Just then a large Tom stumbled into the nursery waking the three she-cat's up. The Tom looked around as Wolfkit bushed up his tail and hissed, trying to protect the others but the tom swiped at Wolfkit, hitting him in the chest and then in the eye as he let out a yowl of pain and hit the nursery wall, blood dripping from his wounds.

Foxpelt then leapt onto her feet and hissed at the Tom as she chased him out of the nursery while Featherdapple checked over Wfkit to see if he was alright. Wolfkit was letting out whimpers of pain as Featherdapple picked him up by the scruff and rushing him to Ravenleaf's den. "Ravenleaf, do you think you could help Wolfkit" Featherdapple asked as the medicine cat leapt to her feet and started to find herbs to heal the young kit while her apprentice watched.

Foxpelt and Darkheart quickly rushed in to see how there son was doing as Raveeaf placed a marigold poultice onto Wolfkit's eye and chest. "He will have to stay here for the night so that I can keep an eye on him" Ravenleaf explained as the three cats left the den. Wolfkit whimpered some more as he slowly drifted off into sleep.

When Wolfkit awoke again he overheard Ravenleaf talking to his parents. "I'm afraid that Wfkit has lost sight in his left eye" Ravenleaf spoke as Foxpelt and Darkheart looked devastated. "You can't fix it" Foxpelt asked as Ravenleaf shook her head.

"Does this mean I can't be a warrior" Wolfkit asked as he looked up at the three cats with sadness. "I'm not sure, we'll have to see but I don't think this will stop you from being a warrior, you still have your other eye and your nose and ears" Ravenleaf comforted before turning to his parents. "He'll have to stay here for a while" she told them before leaving the den with them leaving Wolfkit alone with Maplepaw.

"Hey. It's Wolfkit right" Maplepaw asked. Wolfkit nodded but didn't speak still in shock about what had happened. "I'm sorry about your eye, I can't believe that Tom did that. I know he's a Storm clan cat but your never supposed to hurt kits" Maplepaw added as Wolfkit went to lay down in his nest, thinking about how he would cope with just one eye. While he was thinking, he didn't realise that he was slowly starting to drift off to sleep.

Sorry it's short but I'm tired and it's all I've got and I haven't really wrote a warrior cats book in a while so yeah anyway enjoy. I'm off to bed.

Till next time

Chapter 2

Wolfkit woke up in the medicine cat as he placed his ears against his head. "I see your awake" Ravenleaf purred as she walked over with a flick of her tail. Wolfkit placed his ears down against his head and looked at his paws.

"Cheer up, your going to become an apprentice any day now" Ravenleaf meowed, patting him on the head with her paw. "But what if I don't make a good warrior" Wolfkit meowed sadly, still looking at his paws. "Don't worry, you'll do fine" Ravenleaf purred before Redstar called "Let all those old enough to catch their own prey gather beneath the highboulder for a clan meeting"

Wolfkit walked out of the den with Ravenleaf, Maplepaw was already in the clearing. The other cats filled into the clearing as Foxpelt gestured for Wolfkit to sit with her and her brother.

"What's going on" Wolfkit asked, in confusion. "You'll find out" Foxpelt purred as she gave her son a lick. Amberkit looked at this and hissed a little under his breath which confused Wolfkit but before I could ask what that was about Redstar started to speak again before beckoning Deerpaw and Ashpaw forward.

"I, Redstar, leader of Wolfclan, call upon my warrior ancestors to look down upon these apprentices. They have trained hard to understand the ways of your noble code, and I command them to you as a warrior in their turn" Redstar started as everyone listened.

"Deerpaw, do you promise to uphold the warrior code, and protect and defend this clan, even at the cost of your life" Redstar asked.

"I do" Deerpaw meowed.

"Then by the powers of Starclan, I give you your warrior name, Deerpaw, from this moment on you will be known as Deerwillow. Starclan honours your Loyalty and your determination and we welcome you as a full warrior of Wolfclan" Redstar spoke as Deerwillow puffed her chest out proudly.

"Then by the powers of Starclan, I give you your warrior name, Ashpaw, from this moment on you will be known as Ashflower. Starclan honours your patience and your independence and we welcome you as a full warrior of Wolfclan" Redstar added as Ashflower stood proudly next to her sister proudly.

"We also have three kits that are ready to become apprentices. Stripekit, Wolfkit and Amberkit step forward" Redstar meowed as the three kits stepped forward. Wolfkit stood proudly, puffing his chest out.

"Stripekit, from this day forward until she has earned her warrior name, this apprentice will be called Stripepaw. Darkheart, I hope that you will pass down your honesty and intelligence on to your new apprentice" Redstar spoke as Darkheart walked forward and touched noses with his new apprentice.

"Amberkit, from this day forward until his earns his warrior name, this apprentice will be called Amberpaw. Thorneye, I hope that you will pass down your bravery and strength on to your new apprentice" Redstar explained as Thorneye touched noses with Amberpaw.

"Wolfkit, from this day forward until he has earned his warrior names, this apprentice will be called Wolfpaw. I will be mentor to this young apprentice and I hope that I will be able to pass on all that I know to him" Redstar explained as he leapt down and touched noses with Wolfpaw.

After this, everyone separated as Redstar looked down at Wolfpaw. "Why did you chose me to be your apprentice" Wolf paw asked, looking up at his leader. "Because I see great potential in you but you need help in seeing that so I thought that I should be the one to help" she replied.

Wolfkit couldn't help but feel a little happier. In fact he hadn't felt this happy since before he lost sight in his right eye. "Well come on then, let's go tour the territory" Redstar purred as Wolfkit beamed with pride.

Wolfkit returned in a good mood as he bounded over to his brother who was eating a mouse. "Amberpaw. You'll never guess how much fun I had today. Redstar showed me all of the territory and even told me stories of when she was an apprentice" Wolfclaw cheered.

Amberpaw just snorted and continued to eat his mouse. "Didn't you have a fun time too" Wolf paw asked, confused. "I don't want to have a fun time, I just want to learn" berpaw spat before getting up and leaving, the mouse he had only half eaten.

Wolfpaw tilted his head in confusion at his brothers sudden bitterness towards him before his father ran over. "So Wolfpaw, how was your first day as an apprentice" Darkheart asked with a smile. "Amazing, I got to see the territory and Redstar told me some stories" Wolfpaw replied, his confusion quickly melting away into excitement.

"That sounds like it was fun" Darkheart purred, licking his son between the ears. Wolfpaw purred and rubbed against his dad. "Your the best" he purred before grabbing the rest of his brother's mouse and eating it.
